This month’s spotlighted member is Jason Pye, vice president of the Due Process Institute. In his interview, Pye emphasizes the importance of second chances and creating pathways for formerly incarcerated people to rebuild their lives and reflects on his work with leaders across the political spectrum that led to bipartisan legislative successes such as the First Step Act.